Course Goal

This short, intensive and practical course is designed to help dispatchers to read, analyze and exploit navigation charts.

Course Background

Today dispatchers are rarely confronted with aeronautical paper charts in the normal working routine. Occasionally, a cursory glance at the map will be thrown in flight planning system on the monitor during the flight plan calculation. But how to read the character and values of a classic chart. How can you get more potential out of the maps for your route optimization. Our trainer will show the attendees how the best can be retrieved from maps with a trained eye.
